The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was

The national horizon is just now treated to a Japanned coloring.

The weather prophet could draw most any conclusion from the indications of Saturday.

What granite manufacturer was fortunate enough to get those nine flat cars that the Central Vermont railroad sent down Saturday night?

The State House attaches must have been pleased that it was only a hawk that flew into their building instead of some of last fall's vultures returning.

An article in Harper's Weekly asks the question, "Do We Need More Money?" On inspecting the family stock, we are forced to the admission that we do.

Has Olin Merrill of Enosburgh Falls got his reward for faithful attendance on Governor Proctor? He has just been appointed to assist J. A. DeBoer to devise a better system of book-keeping for the state.

Now that's different; the Maine legislature is just considering a bill to permit legislators and other state officials to receive free transportation from railroad companies during the tenure of their offices. In view of the progress of thought and action on this free pass business, it can hardly be that Maine will take the opposite step.

Those who were closely acquainted with J. C. Enright, the Windsor lawyer, who was found dead from gas asphyxiation in a New York hotel last Friday, do not credit the statement that he endeavored to make away with himself, but cling to the belief that his death was due to an accident. There is certainly no public knowledge of anything that should lead him to suicide.

Ugh! No wonder that the people of Dover, N. H., nearly choked when they learned that they had been drinking city water contaminated with filth from the sewer. It was another case of a city's left hand not knowing what its right hand doeth, the right having turned river water into the city water mains to extinguish a fire, while the left was ignorant. Any city will find it to be to its advantage to take the public into confidence and not try to run affairs on "gum-shoe" methods.

BUSINESSLIKE SIGNS IN VERMONT.
 Some signs of businesslike methods are cropping out from time to time in Vermont's state government. One of them is told by the Bennington Banner of a newly appointed official, Dr. L. P. ## BUSINESS REVERSES

CAUSED SUICIDE

Howard P. Frothingham, New York Broker or Money Lender, Jumped Out of Window, Striking on His Head.

New York, Dec. 4.—Howard P. Frothingham, who while delirious from nervous breakdown jumped from the second story of his home, No. 29 West 77th street, Saturday, died just before midnight. The death was not reported to the police until yesterday, when the coroner instituted an investigation.

Strain due to recent reverses in Wall street is believed to have caused the despondency which resulted in suicide. He was one of the best known men in the financial district.

He had passed his 45th birthday and was a native of New York city. He was probably the best known loan broker in the country, for he lent more "real" money annually than any other man or firm. He handled money for nearly all the largest financial institutions and his acquaintance in that line of business was very wide.

His patronage was very large and his commissions in the lending business alone are said to have amounted to more than $100,000 a year. He was for 16 years a member of the New York stock exchange, but he found lending more profitable than brokerage and devoted his time almost entirely to it.

Despite his large income Mr. Frothingham was not regarded as a very wealthy man. His charities were very large and only recently he said that he was by no means as rich as many supposed. He added that his entire fortune would not foot up more than $300,000.

He owned his home in 27th street, and a summer home in Deal Beach, N. J.

Recently his physician persuaded him to take a rest and he went to Atlantic city, where he stopped a few days. On his return to his home here he was ordered to bed and nurses were placed in constant attendance upon him. When one of the nurses Saturday opened a window in the sick room, Mr. Frothingham sprang from bed, thrust aside a nurse who had seized him and jumped from the window. He fell to the area, striking on the back of his head, receiving a compound fracture at the base of the skull.

Mr. Frothingham is survived by a widow and daughter.

Saturday swallowed several. Dr. Heath extracted one from the throat, but it is believed that the child swallowed at least three. An effort to locate them will be made today. Yesterday the child was resting comfortably and experienced no serious harm from her experience, with the exception of a badly lacerated throat.

Blanche, the young daughter of O'Brien and Mrs. Frank Bergeron, met with a peculiar accident Saturday. The child while eating shelled peanuts accidentally slipped one into one of her nostrils. Dr. Heath after an hour's labor succeeded in removing it.

Muslin Underwear!

There Never Has Been a Time When Muslin Underwear Hasn't Appealed to the Feminine Nature!

Even in the old days when people cared little for dress the Undermuslins received unusual attention and many a candle has sputtered well into the night to make lace and embroidery for the "trossau."

Great changes have been wrought in the manufacture of Muslin Underwear since the days of even Priscilla, and while there always was and always will be a certain charm and worth to the hand made, I'll bet there wasn't a woman of the 1700-time but what would rather have been living nowadays, when they could step right into a store like this fifteen minutes after the question had been popped and buy Underwear just as dainty and a good deal better shaped than they ever dreamed of making in the days when there was a spinning-wheel in every home.

THE BEST PLACE TO BUY THE BEST UNDERMUSLINS IN THESE PARTS.

At the City Bakery!

On oath and honor we hereby most positively declare that our Double Loaf Malt Bread, made of Pillsbury's flour and by Union bakers, is the best in the State. If you doubt our word try just one loaf and you will be convinced of its superiority to any other. You will notice also that it is white and light and yet firm.

Why is it that Mother's Bread was always good? Because it was made by hand and kneaded, and that is why ours is good. It is properly kneaded. Try one loaf, if no more. All leading grocers and butchers handle it, as follows: Merchant & Fraser, H. J. Smith, Dix & Coleman, Smith & Cumings, Tassie Brothers, John Griffin, J. D. Yandow, Aldrich, Graniteville, and Hopkins, Williamstown. Also leading restaurants and lunch rooms: Spear Brothers, Jack's Lunch Room, Miller's Baltimore Lunch Room and Graniteville Lunch Room.
